High-Impact Learning Experiences

At Southwestern, high-impact experience are immersive opportunities that position our graduates for active, meaningful lives of engagement and achievement.

In addition to the multiple high-impact opportunities offered at Southwestern, Philosophy majors also have the opportunity to engage in student research and/or be a part of the Philosophy club.

Student Research

Our current capstone students are busy working on a number of independent research projects. At Southwestern, the capstone course for majors, or Colloquium, is conceived as a collaborative workshop in which each student pursues an independent research project under the guidance of the philosophy faculty as a whole.

Student Organization

Southwestern's Philosophy Club is a student organization that promotes the discussion of current philosophical topics and how club members can make a change in society starting at an everyday level.
