

FINANCIAL ANALYST PROGRAM

Objectives

The Fund follows the investment guidelines of the equity funds in Southwestern University's Endowment Funds: to preserve and expand the purchasing power relative to inflation for the future of Southwestern University.

Starting 2024, we establish the portfolio Benchmark as 30% of the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Bond Index and 70% of the Standard and Poor's 500 Market Index (S&P 500).

With that, the objectives of this Fund are as follows:

- The Fund attempts to assume a risk-adjusted return greater than the portfolio Benchmark. Thus, the Fund attempts to maintain a beta less than 0.7.
- The Fund looks to realize the highest level of return, consistent with its Benchmark's risk level.
- The Fund seeks a turnover rate of less than 100%. The Fund needs a healthy rate of turnover to achieve its goal of capital growth, but excessive turnover violates the Fund's long-term appreciation strategy as well as diminishes returns through transaction costs.
- The Fund also tries to achieve above-average risk-adjusted returns based on the Sharpe and Treynor performance ratios. Positive risk-adjusted returns in both of these measures reflect superior results; therefore, the risk-adjusted returns of each measure should be higher than the Benchmark's risk-adjusted return.
