

SOCIOLOGY & ANTHROPOLOGY

Student Research and Awards

Students in Sociology and Anthropology at Southwestern University are active researchers. They are highly involved in all aspects of research and presentation of their work. Check out what previous students have done for Sociology and Anthropology capstone projects, what research they have presented at Sociology and Anthropology conferences, who has won the departmental awards, and who has won student paper competitions at regional and national conferences.