

ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS

Graduate Business School Partnerships

Southwestern University's graduate business school partnerships place the analytical and communication strengths of a liberal arts education at the heart of graduate business success. In today's fast-moving global economy, leaders must be able to navigate complexity, think critically across disciplines, and communicate effectively. These partnerships offer Southwestern students a seamless route to competitive graduate business programs, regardless of major, through partnerships with some of Texas' most respected institutions.

Whether you're interested in data analytics, marketing, human resources, or accounting, these graduate opportunities build on the strengths of your Southwestern education and broaden your career potential.

Master of Science at Texas A&M University

Through a partnership with Mays Business School at Texas A&M University, Southwestern students can combine the critical thinking and communication strengths of a liberal arts degree with the high-demand skills of a Master of Science in business. These programs are designed to give liberal arts students a competitive edge by pairing broad intellectual training with specialized business knowledge.

Eligible MS Programs:

- Master of Science in Business (Exclusively for non-business majors)
- Master of Science in Entrepreneurial Leadership
- Master of Science in Finance

≡ Menu Search

Apply Visit Majors & Minors

- Master of Science in Real Estate

Partnership Highlights:

- Seamless application pathways for qualified non-business majors
- Personalized academic advising and admissions counseling from TAMU
- TAMU-campus visit opportunities to meet Mays faculty, staff, and graduate students
- Support with prerequisite planning and application preparation
- Selected SU students may be eligible for early decision or conditional admission pathways.

Whether you're studying business, psychology, communication, biology, art, or any other field, these graduate degrees can open doors to leadership roles in business, analytics, marketing, real estate, and beyond.

Have questions or want to learn more? Contact The Mays School of Business at gradschool@mays.tamu.edu.

MBA at Texas A&M University

The Master of Business Administration (MBA) at Mays Business School prepares students for leadership roles across industries. Southwestern students from any major who meet admission requirements are encouraged to apply through this dedicated pathway.

Partnership Highlights:

- Seamless application pathways for qualified non-business majors
- Personalized academic advising and admissions counseling from TAMU
- TAMU-campus visit opportunities to meet Mays faculty, staff, and graduate students
- Support with prerequisite planning and application preparation

≡ Menu Search

Apply Visit Majors & Minors

With an emphasis on strategy, innovation, and ethical leadership, the Mays MBA is a valuable next step for students driven to make a difference in business and beyond.

Have questions or want to learn more? Contact The Mays School of Business at gradschool@mays.tamu.edu.

Master in Accounting (MAcc) at Rice University

Southwestern's partnership with the Master in Accounting (MAcc) program at Rice University gives students a competitive edge when applying to graduate school, and a head start on a career in public accounting, consulting, or corporate finance.

Program Eligibility:

- Open to students from any major
- Completion of BUS30-114: Fundamentals of Accounting by the end of junior year

Key Benefits:

- No application fee for Southwestern students
- No work experience required
- Scholarship opportunities available
- Early access to recruiting opportunities with top firms, including Deloitte, EY, KPMG, and PwC

Learn more.